

DiJonai

When planning a wedding for Di I think there's no denying that it must be extravagant. Personally I'd go with the theme: elaborate elegance. The ceremony would be held in a huge, traditional church. I'd give her wedding a very classy look with the colors of mainly black and white with simple touches of red and silver. I'd imagine her wedding dress be a jaw dropping fit to flare with a long train and crystal accents everywhere. And her reception would be held in a massive ballroom, and knowing Di, it would more likely turn into a party. Best case scenario, we could surprise Di with the RnB artist, John Legend. DiJonai's wedding would be quite the event to remember.

Shannon

I imagine Shannon with a fresh spring wedding held along a beautiful, green golf course. The reception will be held near the ceremony in a big tent with a great dance floor (an absolute must for Shan's dance moves), and a tent thin enough to see the stars (taken from The Wedding Planner). I think a plum color would look great with the venue, accented with a lime green. I am certain Shan would look great in an A-Line with a full bottom and sweetheart neckline. Wedding planning with Shan would be a dream, there's no doubt it would be one the most fun to plan

Bird

We all know Bird is the human manifestation of “go big or go home,” so her wedding will not be an exception to this. While I imagine her ceremony held in a church, she wouldn’t settle with a typical church you see walking down the street. We need something massive, something to turn heads. I see Bird’s base color being an elegant dark blue with crystal accents to really make it pop. I don’t think she is as keen of sparkles as I am, but I’ll convince her how great it’ll look. As great as Bird looks in her basketball sweats every day, I can’t wait to see her in her wedding dress. Again, I think she will look incredible in a fit and flare as well. I’m thinking backless. Now the reception, that will be quite the party. It will need to be held in a huge space, I think a Victoria warehouse would be perfect. It is a given she will have her best friend DJ Ash B on the music detail, but I also think we will need at least one classic RnB singer. Bird might even sing for all we know. Regardless of what happens this will be the wedding of the century.

Nadia

Nad's wedding will be spectacular. I'm think a night wedding. I have a perfect picture of the venue in my head, but I'm not sure it exists, so bear with me. I imagine it being on the grounds of an extravagant hotel. I imagine Nad walking over a glass bridge over water to a lit archway with fountains behind it. This wedding will bring a whole new meaning to the word class. I think Nad will turn heads in a very sophisticated off the shoulder lace dress with crystal accents. And in that dress she will continue to turn heads on the dance floor because I know she will be tearing that up. Again, under a ceiling of lights, Nad's reception will be a party to remember.

Brittany

If anyone knows Brit they know her wedding will be held outside; and I can't think of anywhere more perfect than a mountain. I'm not sure how many of you readers have seen Breaking Dawn Part I, but it is a perfect picture for how I picture Brit's wedding. Something simple, but breathtakingly beautiful with lights strung and flowers everywhere. I think soft, muted hues would really accent the mountain scene along with Brit's personality; I'm thinking undertones of purple, green, a magenta, and a turquoise would be perfect. We all know that Brit would look incredible in anything we put her in, but I could see her in a fitted, lace, backless dress with a unique and vintage look. I picture the reception up in the mountain under a ceiling of string lights. And I imagine a country singer to perform. Think of Britt and her wedding day just brings me pure joy!

Karlie

I think Karl will have a Summer wedding getting married in the backyard of a massive mansion. I think her colors will be another mix of undertones, but this time with a focus on rose gold and champagne. I imagine Karl walking down the aisle in a soft and feminine, lace accented gown. The reception will be similar to Shan's with a large tent near to where the ceremony was held. I can't imagine Karl's special day being a perfect mixture of sentiment and joy.

Alanna

I can't think of a better venue for Alanna's wedding but a beach. Imagining a smaller destination wedding, I think it will be simple yet perfect. With natural, coastal colors I think the thing to stand out more than anything else will be her dress. Alanna's dress must be unique; I'm thinking a long fitted backless dress with a clean look would look incredible on her. Even with a smaller wedding the reception would be just as much of a party if not more so. With a fun and entertaining DJ I'm sure Alanna would have the time of her life doing her weird Australian dance they call muzzing. All in all, I think it would be a great time.
